Commentary on the Results for the Period

Fastbrick Robotics Limited ('FBR') made significant strides in the Hadrian X programme during the financial year, culminating in the completion of mechanical assembly of the Hadrian X in June 2018. At that time, this was the most significant milestone in the Company's history, and represented a major de-risking of the Hadrian X programme.

The programme then entered the Testing & Commissioning Phase, where each of the individual modules and the functionality of the Hadrian X undergoes testing. The Hadrian X remains on track to complete its first build of a 3-bedroom, 2-bathroom structure known as Build1 in the second half of the 2018 calendar year.

In July 2017, FBR announced it had entered into a Memorandum of Understanding ('MOU') with Caterpillar Inc. ('Caterpillar') to discuss and develop a potential framework for collaboration regarding the development, manufacturing, sales and services of FBR's robotic bricklaying technology, the Hadrian X. The MOU had an initial term of 12 months, which was extended subsequent to the end of the period in order to allow FBR sufficient time to demonstrate the capability of the Hadrian X. In parallel, FBR also announced that Caterpillar would be granted a new option to replace the original option, with a higher total value of US$10 million and a higher exercise price of $0.24, which was subsequently approved by shareholders on 29 August 2018.

The Company also announced it had signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia's Ministry of Housing, contemplating the construction of a minimum of 50,000 new home units in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia by 2022. It is anticipated that approximately 100 Hadrian X construction robots would be required to complete this objective.

In June 2018, FBR announced it had entered into a Strategic Collaboration Agreement ('SCA') with GP Vivienda to discuss pilot testing programmes for the Hadrian X in Mexico, as well as opportunities for future applications of the Company's core Dynamic Stabilisation Technology, or DST™. The SCA between FBR and GP Vivienda extends for two years and in addition to the above contemplates commercial, corporate and investment opportunities, knowledge sharing, mutual business development opportunities, and joint technology or business process development opportunities.

During the 2018 financial year EY-Parthenon was appointed as FBR's global strategic advisor to assist the Company to better understand its target markets and assess the overall market opportunity for Hadrian X. In April 2018, FBR announced it had completed the first phase of its global market study, with analysis indicating a stock of approximately 140,000 to 150,000 Hadrian X construction robots would be required to build all low-rise buildings in 2018. FBR has set a minimum initial five year target of 2% of the global addressable market for the Hadrian X.

The Company also significantly strengthened its leadership team. Mark Sheridan was appointed to the position of General Manager of Operations, and was then promoted to Chief Operating Officer (COO), with the prior COO Marcus Gracey moving into the role of Chief Corporate Development Officer to focus on FBR's international expansion. Aidan Flynn was appointed to the position of Chief Financial Officer and Company Secretary. Jonathan Lawe Davies was appointed as Chief IP Counsel and Steve Pierz was appointed to the role of Chief Innovation Officer. FBR also established an Advisory Committee to provide the Company with guidance, advice and networking assistance and appointed Curtis Rodgers and Peter Scott as the two initial members.

Following the end of the financial year, FBR also refreshed its Board, with Mr Richard Grellman AM named Non-Executive Chairman following the retirement of Ms Shannon Robinson from the Board, and Ms Nancy Milne OAM and Mr Andrew Bloore joining as Non-Executive Directors following the retirement of Mr Gabriel Chiappini.

In November 2017, the Company advised it had completed a $35 million placement to international and domestic institutional investors.

The loss for the 12 months to 30 June 2018 has increased to $7,115,679 from the prior period loss of $2,567,107. This was primarily due to an increase in procurement and staff costs as the Hadrian X programme drew closer to demonstration stage. The Company maintains an excellent financial position at the end of the period of $21,956,657 in cash and $8,164,930 in receivables.

Company Secretary

Mr Aidan Flynn, B Comm, B Sc, Dip Energy, CPA

Mr Flynn is the Chief Financial Officer of the Company and was appointed as Company Secretary on 17 July 2018.

Principal activities

FBR designs, develops and builds dynamically stabilised robots to address global needs. These robots are designed to work outdoors using the Company's core Dynamic Stabilisation Technology (DST™). FBR is commercialising products for the construction sector together with DST™-enabled solutions for other industries. The first application of DST™ is the Hadrian X, a construction robot capable of building the walls of a structure from a 3D CAD model with speed and precision. Mechanical assembly of the Hadrian X was completed in June 2018.

Significant changes in the state of affairs

In November 2017, FBR completed a placement of 184,210,526 fully paid ordinary shares in the capital of the Company with a small number of international and domestic institutional investors. The shares were allotted in November 2017 at $0.19 per share and raised a total of $35 million. The funds were raised to finalise the procurement, assembly, testing and demonstration of FBR's Hadrian X commercial prototypes.

No other significant changes were made in the state of affairs during the period.

Review of operations and financial results

In June 2018, FBR completed the mechanical assembly of the world's first Hadrian X construction robot. This was a significant milestone in the Company's operations. Following on from mechanical assembly completion, the Hadrian X programme has entered the Testing and Commissioning Phase, in which the following three key tests will be carried out:

- Testing of the functionality of the Company's core DST;
- Factory Acceptance Testing ('FAT'), where the Hadrian X will build structures in different configurations in a controlled factory environment; and
- Outdoor field testing in preparation for its first house build, a 3-bedroom, 2-bathroom structure known as Build1.

In conjunction with the assembly completion announcement, the Company announced a rebrand to FBR Limited, with a new corporate structure, logo and corporate colours. This change reflects FBR's growth into a global robotics company and establishes a structure that could see a number of different operating divisions emerge in addition to construction robotics, as the Company's core DST has potential applications across numerous industries beyond bricklaying and construction.

Shortly after mechanical assembly of the Hadrian X was completed, FBR announced it had entered into a Strategic Collaboration Agreement ('SCA') with GP Vivienda, the housing division of one of Mexico's largest construction companies, Grupo GP. The SCA extends for two years and contemplates the discussion of a pilot programme in Mexico, as well as opportunities for future applications of FBR's DST and other commercial and business development opportunities.

In July 2017, the Company substantially de-risked its commercialisation strategy via the signing of the Memorandum of Understanding ('MOU') with Caterpillar Inc. ('Caterpillar'). The Caterpillar MOU facilitates the collaboration between Caterpillar and FBR in relation to FBR's robotic bricklaying technology. As part of the agreement, Caterpillar invested US$2 million into the Company with an option to invest a further US$8 million.

In July 2018, it was announced that the Company and Caterpillar had elected to extend the MOU, and that a new option would be granted to Caterpillar subject to shareholder approval. This new option was intended to replace the previous option with a higher total value of US$10 million, subject to a number of conditions outlined in events arising since the end of the reporting period.

In August 2017, FBR announced the signing of a non-binding Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”) with the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia’s Ministry of Housing. The MOU positions Saudi Arabia as a first global adopter of FBR’s robotic bricklaying technology and contemplates the construction of a minimum of 50,000 new home units by 2022.

In April 2018, FBR released a global market study carried out with support from a strategic advisor. This market study identified that a stock of approximately 140,000 to 150,000 Hadrian X construction robots would be required to build all low-rise buildings globally in 2018. With the information derived from the global market study, FBR has initiated analysis of key market entry points and commercialisation strategies for different jurisdictions in preparation for completion of the Hadrian X programme.

The net consolidated loss of the Company for the financial period was $7,115,679 (2017: loss of $2,567,107)*.

*Restated prior year loss; refer to Note 4(b)

Dividends

No dividends were proposed or paid during the period or up to the date of signing this report.

Events arising since the end of the reporting period

2 July 2018 – FBR extended the MOU with Caterpillar and entered into a new Option Deed. The parties agreed to extend the term of the MOU until 31 January 2019, in order to allow FBR additional time to demonstrate the technology to Caterpillar, in line with the original intentions of the MOU. Under the new option, Caterpillar will have the ability to subscribe for shares in FBR to the total value of approximately US$10 million at a subscription price of $0.24 on or before 31 January 2019. The exercise of the new option is conditional upon Caterpillar entering into a Strategic Alliance Agreement with FBR and is subject to FBR shareholder approval.

10 July 2018 – FBR announced the appointment of Mr Steve Pierz as its Chief Innovation Officer, based full time in the United States. As part of this appointment, FBR announced the establishment of an office based in the United States as it looks to expand its global footprint.

15 July 2018 – FBR appointed Mr Richard Grellman AM as its new Non-Executive Chairman, following the retirement from the Board of Ms Shannon Robinson.

10 August 2018 – FBR appointed Ms Nancy Milne OAM and Mr Andrew Bloore as Non-Executive Directors of the Company, following the retirement from the Board and the role of Joint Company Secretary of Mr Gabriel Chiappini.

22 August 2018 - FBR appointed Mr Peter Scott to its Advisory Committee.

29 August 2018 – FBR shareholders approved a change of Company name from Fastbrick Robotics Limited to FBR Limited and the grant of a new option to Caterpillar.

Likely developments, business strategies and prospects

FBR will continue to progress the Hadrian X programme towards commercialisation in FY19, as well as investing in its intellectual property portfolio and its employees.

Hadrian X – FBR’s main focus during the 2019 financial year will be the demonstration of the Hadrian X construction robot and further refinements to its operating performance following completion of an extensive testing process. There are a number of key de-risking milestones remaining that the Hadrian X programme will need to navigate and clear, including several testing phases and demonstration. More specifically the 2018 Hadrian X programme de-risking milestones include:

- Module testing;
- Commissioning;
- DST Testing;
- Factory Acceptance Testing;
- Site Acceptance Testing; and
- Demonstration & showcase of Hadrian X – Build1.

Key Relationships – In parallel with the Hadrian X programme, FBR will continue to develop its existing relationships with key partners as well as attracting new partners to help deliver on strategic objectives.

Caterpillar remains FBR’s preferred global manufacturing partner, as contemplated in the extension of the MOU and the grant of the replacement option.

The MOU with the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia’s Ministry of Housing and the SCA with GP Vivienda represent potential locations for Hadrian X pilot programmes, with high demand for fast, affordable housing in both regions. FBR will look to deepen their engagement in the respective regions in FY19 as part of its market entry strategy for the Hadrian X, as well as attracting new partners in suitable locations.

Customer Discovery Strategy – Using the information learned from its global market study, as well as analysis conducted in conjunction with key partners, the Company is building on its Customer Discovery Strategy and will continue to do so in FY19. The Customer Discovery Strategy is integral to the commercialisation of the Hadrian X programme and future applications of DST, and is strongly linked to its global manufacturing and distribution strategy.

FBR has been engaged in a process to identify suitable early adopters for the Hadrian X and future DST applications as part of the Company’s market entry strategy. This process has yielded a number of key relationships that are continuing to develop, as well as a number of targets suited to being early adopters of FBR’s technology with a view to entering into binding agreements as the Hadrian X programme nears readiness for commercialisation.

Intellectual Property Portfolio – During FY18, FBR enhanced its intellectual property strategy and management with the appointment of Mr Jonathan Lawe Davies as in-house Chief IP Counsel and an in-house patent attorney. The Company continues to have a strong IP strategy and is committed to building upon its patent portfolio protecting its core DST, the Hadrian X and the

For personal use only

Hadrian optimised block, as well as a number of future technologies that are in development through filings with various external attorney firms. FBR now has over 36 patents and patent applications filed around the world with a number of new applications in the pipeline covering various improvements to the Hadrian X and future applications for DST.

Fastbrick Employees – FBR has become an employer of choice for the robotics sector, enabling the Company to secure key people during FY18; a period in which the Company more than tripled its staff numbers. The Company anticipates a further increase in employees during FY19 as it moves to complete the Hadrian X programme and progress research and development projects relating to other applications for DST. Continuing to be an employer of choice is crucial to allow the Company to recruit employees so that FBR can execute on its:

- Research & Development programmes;
- Global Manufacturing Production & Licencing Strategy; and
- Customer Discovery Strategy.

Subsequent to the end of FY18, FBR undertook a research and consultation exercise with employees to align the Company values with the aspirational goals, which will set the path for the Company's hiring strategy as it enters the next phase of its development.

New Applications for FBR's core technology

Subject to successfully executing key components of the Company's Hadrian X programme, FBR intends to seed new Research & Development projects to utilise FBR's core DST. In the immediate term, FBR remains focussed on delivering on the Hadrian X programme, however at an appropriate time the Company will allocate resources to progress some of the new applications and commercialisation opportunities for DST.

FBR has a remuneration framework that is market competitive and complementary to the reward strategy of the Company.

The Board, with the assistance and guidance of the Remuneration Committee, is responsible for determining and reviewing compensation arrangements for the Company.

The remuneration structure that has been adopted by the Company consists of the following components:

- Fixed remuneration being annual salary; and
- Equity plan for staff, which consists of Share Performance Rights, Share Retention Rights and Incentive Options.

As the Company grows and matures, the Board will look at refining the remuneration structure to manage short term incentives and further develop its employee share plans.

The Non-Executive Directors on the Board assess the appropriateness of the nature and amount of remuneration on a periodic basis by reference to recent employment market conditions, with the overall objective of ensuring maximum stakeholder benefit by the retention of a high quality Board and Executive Team.

The payment of bonuses, share options and other incentive payments are to be reviewed by the Non-Executive Directors annually as part of the review of executive remuneration. All bonuses, options and incentives must be linked to predetermined performance criteria.

Short Term Incentive (STI)

FBR presently does not have a financial STI Plan in place, however it does monitor staff performance to ensure key objectives are being met. The performance measures involve the use of annual performance objectives, metrics, performance appraisals and continuing emphasis on living the Company values.

As part of the continued growth of the Company, it will look to introduce financial performance incentives whereby performance measures will be set annually after consultation with the Directors and Executives and will be specifically tailored to the areas where each executive has a level of control. The measures will target areas the Board believes hold the greatest potential for expansion and profit and cover financial and non-financial measures.

For personal use only

The Key Performance Indicators (KPI's) for the Executive Team are summarised as follows:

- financial – not applicable for FY18, however it is expected future financial years will have revenues, operating profit and earnings per share; and
- non-financial – strategic and corporate goals set individually based on job descriptions and the attainment of the Company's overall strategic and corporate milestones.

The Board may, at its discretion, award bonuses for exceptional performance in relation to each individual.

Use of remuneration consultants

Remuneration is compared with the external market by industry salary surveys and during recruitment activities generally. During the period, the Board engaged consulting firm The Reward Practice Pty Ltd to provide independent advice in the form of a written report detailing benchmarking of executive remuneration to support a review to ensure the effective alignment with business requirements, market practice and key shareholder group expectations. During the period no remuneration recommendations, as defined by the Corporations Act, were provided by The Reward Practice Pty Ltd.

Voting and comments made at the Company's last Annual General Meeting

FBR received 84% of 'yes' votes on its Remuneration Report for the 2017 Annual General Meeting. The Company received no adverse feedback on its Remuneration Report at the Annual General Meeting.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

1 Nature of operations

Fastbrick Robotics Limited and its controlled subsidiaries ('FBR' or 'the Company') is developing technology to build an automated robotic machine with the aim of it being capable of completing the brickwork of a Full Home Structure in approximately 3 days at potentially significantly lower cost and higher quality than traditional methods. The Company has secured patents to protect its intellectual property rights in its technology in key markets.

2 General information and statement of compliance

The consolidated general purpose financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act 2001, Australian Accounting Standards and other authoritative pronouncements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB). Compliance with Australian Accounting Standards results in full compliance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). FBR is a for-profit entity for the purpose of preparing the financial statements.

FBR is the Company's Ultimate Parent Company. FBR is a Public Company incorporated and domiciled in Australia. The address of its registered office and its principal place of business is 122 Sultana Road West, High Wycombe WA 6057.

The Company held cash and cash equivalents at balance date of $21,956,657 and was working capital positive. The Company has prepared a cash flow forecast for the next year which provides for completion of the first Hadrian X construction robot through testing and commissioning and operation. The Company's forecast demonstrates that there are sufficient cash reserves and receivables for next year to provide the necessary working capital for the Company to continue its ongoing Hadrian X programme and to provide the necessary working capital to cover its corporate costs over the next year.

4 Changes in accounting policies

c) Accounting Standards issued but not yet effective and not been adopted early by the Company

The Company has also reviewed all new Standards and Interpretations that have been issued but are not yet effective for the financial year ended 30 June 2018. As a result of this review, the Directors have determined that the following new Standards and Interpretations will impact, material or otherwise, the accounting policies of the Company:

5 Summary of accounting policies

a) Basis of consolidation

The Company financial statements consolidate those of the Parent Company and all of its subsidiaries as of 30 June 2018. The Parent controls a subsidiary if it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the subsidiary and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the subsidiary. All subsidiaries have a reporting date of 30 June.

All transactions and balances between FBR companies are eliminated on consolidation, including unrealised gains and losses on transactions between FBR companies. Where unrealised losses on intra-Company asset sales are reversed on consolidation, the underlying asset is also tested for impairment from a Company perspective. Amounts reported in the financial statements of subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the accounting policies adopted by the Company.

Profit or loss and other comprehensive income of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the year are recognised from the effective date of acquisition, or up to the effective date of disposal, as applicable.

b) Segment reporting

The Company has identified one operating segment based on the internal reports that are reviewed and used by the executive management team (the chief operating decision makers) in assessing performance and in determining the allocation of resources.

The Company operates in Australia (building technology) and prepares reports internally by this location.

Other prospective opportunities outside of this geographical location are also considered from time to time, and if they are secured, will then be attributed to the geographical location where they are located.

All of the Company's non-current assets are held in Australia and all interest revenue is derived from funds invested in short-term money market instruments, all of which are held within Australia.

c) Income

Interest and dividend income

Interest income and expenses are reported on an accrual basis using the effective interest method. Dividends, other than those from investments in associates, are recognised at the time the right to receive payment is established.

d) Operating expenses

Operating expenses are recognised in profit or loss upon utilisation of the service or at the date of their origin.

e) Leased assets

A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership.

Finance leases are capitalised by recording an asset and a liability at the lower of the amounts equal to the fair value of the leased property or the present value of the minimum lease payments, including any guaranteed residual values. Lease payments are allocated between the reduction of the lease liability and the lease interest expense for the period. Leased assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives.

Lease payments for operating leases, where substantially all the risks and benefits remain with the lessor, are recognised as expenses in the periods in which they are incurred.

f) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and demand deposits, together with other short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash within three (3) months or less and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

g) Property, plant and equipment

Plant and Equipment

All plant and equipment is stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the profit or loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation is calculated over the estimated useful life of the asset as follows:

	Method	Useful Lives
Plant and equipment	Straight Line	3 years
Office fitout and equipment	Straight Line	2-10 years
Plant and equipment – leased	Straight Line	3-4 years

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in profit or loss.

h) Impairment testing of property, plant and equipment

For impairment assessment purposes, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are largely independent cash inflows (cash-generating units). As a result, some assets are tested individually for impairment and some are tested at cash-generating unit level.

All individual assets or cash-generating units are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable.

An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's or cash-generating unit's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value-in-use. To determine the value-in-use, management estimates expected future cash flows from each cash-generating unit and determines a suitable interest rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows. The data used for impairment testing procedures are directly linked to the Company's latest approved budget, adjusted as necessary to exclude the effects of future reorganisations and asset enhancements. Discount factors are determined individually for each cash-generating unit and reflect management's assessment of respective risk profiles, such as market and asset-specific risks factors.

Impairment losses for cash-generating units are charged pro rata to the other assets in the cash-generating unit. All assets are subsequently reassessed for indications that an impairment loss previously recognised may no longer exist. An impairment charge is reversed if the cash-generating unit's recoverable amount exceeds its carrying amount.

i) Research and development

Research costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Patents costs that relate to projects that are in the research phase are expensed.

Development costs are capitalised when it is probable that the project will be a success considering its commercial and technical feasibility; the consolidated entity is able to use or sell the asset; the consolidated entity has sufficient resources; and intent to complete the development and its costs can be measured reliably. Capitalised development costs are amortised over the period of their expected useful life. Patents costs that relate to projects that are in the development phase are capitalised.

Research and development grants receivable are matched to their classification of expenditure. In the periods where research costs are expensed, the related research and development grant is reported in the Consolidated Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income as other income. In periods where the Group incurs Development Costs, the related Research and Development grant is recognised as a credit to capitalised development costs, reported in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position (refer note 4(b)).

j) Financial instruments

Recognition, initial measurement and derecognition

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument, and are measured initially at fair value adjusted by transactions costs, except for those carried at fair value through profit or loss, which are measured initially at fair value. Subsequent measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities are described below.

Financial assets are derecognised when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or when the financial asset and all substantial risks and rewards are transferred. A financial liability is derecognised when it is extinguished, discharged, cancelled or expires.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets

For the purpose of subsequent measurement, financial assets other than those designated and effective as hedging instruments are classified into the following category upon initial recognition:

- loans and receivables

All financial assets, except for those at fair value through profit and loss, are subject to review for impairment, at least at each reporting date, to identify whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or a Company of financial assets is impaired. Different criteria to determine impairment are applied for each category of financial assets, which are described below.

For personal use only

All income and expenses relating to financial assets that are recognised in profit or loss are presented within finance income or other financial items, except for impairment of trade receivables which is presented within other expenses.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. After initial recognition, these are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment. Discounting is omitted where the effect of discounting is immaterial. The Company's trade and most other receivables fall into this category of financial instruments.

Individually significant receivables are considered for impairment when they are past due or when other objective evidence is received that a specific counterparty will default. Receivables that are not considered to be individually impaired are reviewed for impairment in Companies, which are determined by reference to the industry and region of a counterparty and other shared credit risk characteristics. The impairment loss estimate is then based on recent historical counterparty default rates for each identified Company.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial liabilities

The Company's financial liabilities are trade and other payables.

Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost with gains or losses recognised in profit or loss.

k) Income taxes

Tax expense recognised in profit or loss comprises the sum of deferred tax and current tax not recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Current income tax assets and/or liabilities comprise those obligations to, or claims from, the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) and other fiscal authorities relating to the current or prior reporting periods that are unpaid at the reporting date. Current tax is payable on taxable profit, which differs from profit or loss in the financial statements. Calculation of current tax is based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred income taxes are calculated using the liability method on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. However, deferred tax is not provided on the initial recognition of goodwill or on the initial recognition of an asset or liability unless the related transaction is a business combination or affects tax or accounting profit. Deferred tax on temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and joint ventures is not provided if reversal of these temporary differences can be controlled by the Company and it is probable that reversal will not occur in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated, without discounting, at tax rates that are expected to apply to their respective period of realisation, provided they are enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that they will be able to be utilised against future taxable income, based on the Company's forecast of future operating results which is adjusted for significant non-taxable income and expenses and specific limits to the use of any unused tax loss or credit. Deferred tax liabilities are always provided for in full.

For personal use only

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only when the Company has a right and intention to set off current tax assets and liabilities from the same taxation authority.

Changes in deferred tax assets or liabilities are recognised as a component of tax income or expense in profit or loss, except where they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income (such as the revaluation of land) or directly in equity, in which case the related deferred tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or equity, respectively.

FBR and its wholly-owned Australian controlled entities is in the process of implementing the tax consolidation legislation. Following implementation and as a consequence, these entities will be taxed as a single entity and the deferred tax assets and liabilities of these entities are to be set off in the consolidated financial statements.

l) Equity, reserves and dividend payments

Share capital represents the fair value of shares that have been issued. Any transaction costs associated with the issuing of shares are deducted from share capital, net of any related income tax benefits.

Other components of equity include the following:

- Share options reserve comprises the expense of vested share-based payments.
- Retained earnings include all current and prior period retained profits.

All transactions with owners of the parent are recorded separately within equity.

m) Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are benefits, other than termination benefits, that are expected to be settled wholly within twelve (12) months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. Examples of such benefits include wages and salaries, non-monetary benefits and accumulating personal leave. Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

Other long-term employee benefits

The Company's liabilities for annual leave and long service leave are included in other long term benefits as they are not expected to be settled wholly within twelve (12) months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. They are measured at the present value of the expected future payments to be made to employees. The expected future payments incorporate anticipated future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures and periods of service, and are discounted at rates determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on high quality corporate bonds that have maturity dates that approximate the timing of the estimated future cash outflows. Any re-measurements arising from experience adjustments and changes in assumptions are recognised in profit or loss in the periods in which the changes occur.

The Company presents employee benefit obligations as current liabilities in the statement of financial position if the Company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve (12) months after the reporting period, irrespective of when the actual settlement is expected to take place.

For personal use only

Defined Contribution Plans

The Company pays fixed contributions into independent entities in relation to several state plans and insurance for individual employees. The Company has no legal or constructive obligations to pay contributions in addition to its fixed contributions, which are recognised as an expense in the period that relevant employee services are received.

n) Share-based payments

The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled.

If the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, as a minimum, an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified. An additional expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based arrangement, or is otherwise beneficial to the recipient, as measured at the date of modification.

If an equity-settled award is cancelled, it is treated as if it had vested on the date of cancellation, and any expense not yet recognised for the award is recognised immediately. However, if a new award is substituted for the cancelled award and designated as a replacement award on the date that it is granted, the cancelled and new award are treated as if they were a modification of the original award, as described in the previous paragraph.

The dilutive effect, if any, of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of diluted loss per share.

o) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Tax Office. In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense. Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown inclusive of GST.

Cash flows are presented in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis, except for the GST components of investing and financing activities, which are disclosed as operating cash flows.

p) Significant management judgement and estimates in applying accounting policies

When preparing the interim financial statements, management undertakes a number of judgements, estimates and assumptions about recognition and measurement of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The actual results may differ from the judgements, estimates and assumptions made by management, and will seldom equal the estimated results.

The judgements, estimates and assumptions applied in the interim financial statements, including the key sources of estimation uncertainty were the same as those applied in the last annual financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2018.

For personal use only

Additional significant estimates and judgements include:

Key estimate – Share-based payment transactions

The Company measures the cost of equity-settled transactions with employees by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date at which they are granted. The fair value of the options issued during the reporting period has been determined by using various models as appropriate. Details of the estimates used to determine the fair value are detailed in Note 19.

6 Segment reporting

The Company has identified one operating segment based on the internal reports that are reviewed and used by the executive management team (the chief operating decision makers) in assessing performance and in determining the allocation of resources.

The Company operates in Australia (building technology) and prepares reports internally by this location.

Other prospective opportunities outside of this geographical location are also considered from time to time, and if they are secured, will then be attributed to the geographical location where they are located.

All of the Company's non-current assets are held in Australia and all interest revenue is derived from funds invested in short-term money market instruments, all of which are held within Australia.

Development costs are capitalised when it is probable that the project will be a success considering its commercial and technical feasibility, the consolidated entity is able to use or sell the asset, the consolidated entity has sufficient resources; and intent to complete the development and its costs can be measured reliably. Capitalised development costs are amortised over the period of their expected life. Patent costs that relate to projects that are in the development phase are capitalised.

- 1/3 options vest on 1 July 2018
- 1/3 options vest on 1 July 2019
- 1/3 options vest on 1 July 2020

The Black-Scholes option pricing model was used to value these options. Inputs into the valuation model were as stated in the table above, and as follows:

27 Financial instrument risk

a) Risk management objectives and policies

The Company is exposed to various risks in relation to financial instruments. The Company's financial assets and liabilities are summarised by category in Note 13. The main types of risks are market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk.

The Company's risk management is coordinated at its headquarters, in close cooperation with the Board of Directors, and focuses on actively securing the Company's short to medium-term cash flows by minimising the exposure to financial markets. Long-term financial investments are managed to generate lasting returns.

The Company does not actively engage in the trading of financial assets for speculative purposes nor does it write options. The most significant financial risks to which the Company is exposed are described below.

b) Market risk analysis

The Company is exposed to market risk, specifically interest rate risk, through the investment of excess working capital into the short term money market.

Interest rate sensitivity

The consolidated entity's only exposure to interest rate risk is in relation to deposits held. Deposits are held with reputable banking financial institutions.

	2018		2017
	Weighted average interest rate %	Balance $	Weighted average interest rate %	Balance $
Cash at bank	0.22%	5,650,157	0.50%	686,300
Cash on deposit	2.18%	16,306,500	2.04%	7,964,455
		21,956,657		8,650,755

The following table illustrates the sensitivity of profit and equity to a reasonably possible change in interest rates of +/- 0.5% (2017: +/- 0.5%). These changes are considered to be reasonably possible based on observation of current market conditions. The calculations are based on a change in the average market interest rate for each period, and the financial instruments held at each reporting date that are sensitive to changes in interest rates. All other variables are held constant.

	Profit for the year		Equity
	$ 0.50%	$ -0.50%	$ 0.50%	$ -0.50%
Cash at bank
30-Jun-18	28,251	(28,251)	(28,251)	28,251
30-Jun-17	3,432	(3,432)	(3,432)	3,432
Cash on deposit
30-Jun-18	81,533	(81,533)	(81,533)	81,533
30-Jun-17	39,822	(39,822)	(39,822)	39,822

c) Credit risk analysis

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty fails to discharge an obligation to the Company. The Company is exposed to this risk for various financial instruments, for example by granting loans and receivables to customers, placing deposits, investment in bonds etc. The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk is limited to the carrying amount of financial assets recognised at the reporting date, as summarised below:

	2018 $	2017 $
Classes of financial assets
Carrying amounts:
• cash and cash equivalents	21,956,657	8,650,755
• trade and other receivables	9,270,091	757,345
	31,226,748	9,408,100

27 Financial instrument risk (continued)

The Company continuously monitors defaults of counterparties, identified either individually or by Company and incorporates this information into its credit risk controls. The Company's policy is to deal only with creditworthy counterparties.

The Company's management considers that all of the above financial assets that are not impaired or past due for each of the 30 June reporting dates under review are of good credit quality.

Trade receivables consist of GST refunds and Research and Development Rebates. Based on historical information about customer default rates management consider the credit quality of trade receivables that are not past due or impaired to be good.

The credit risk for cash and cash equivalents is considered negligible, since the counterparties are reputable banks with high quality external credit ratings.

d) Liquidity risk analysis

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company might be unable to meet its obligations. The Company manages its liquidity needs by monitoring forecast cash inflows and outflows due in day-to-day business. The data used for analysing these cash flows is consistent with that used in the contractual maturity analysis below. Liquidity needs are monitored in various time bands, on a day-to-day and week-to-week basis, as well as on the basis of a rolling 30 day projection. Long-term liquidity needs for a 180 day and a 360 day lookout period are identified monthly. Net cash requirements are compared to available borrowing facilities in order to determine headroom or any shortfalls. This analysis shows that available borrowing facilities are expected to be sufficient over the lookout period.

The Company's objective is to maintain cash and marketable securities to meet its liquidity requirements for 30 day periods at a minimum. This objective was met for the reporting periods. Funding for long-term liquidity needs is additionally secured by an adequate amount of committed credit facilities and the ability to sell long-term financial assets.

The Company considers expected cash flows from financial assets in assessing and managing liquidity risk, in particular its cash resources and trade receivables. The Company's existing cash resources and trade receivables (see Statement of Financial Position) significantly exceed the current cash outflow requirements. Cash flows from other receivables are all due within six (6) months.

As at 30 June 2018, the Company's non-derivative financial liabilities have contractual maturities (including interest payments where applicable) as summarised below:

	Current		Non-current
	Within 6 months	6 - 12 months	1 - 5 years	5+ years
	$	$	$	$
30 June 2018
Trade and other payables	2,273,432	-	-	-
Finance lease	6,985	6,985	26,523	-
Total	2,280,417	6,985	26,523	-

This compares to the maturity of the Company's non-derivative financial liabilities in the previous reporting periods as follows:

	Current		Non-current
	Within 6 months $	6 - 12 months $	1 - 5 years $	5+ years $
30 June 2017
Trade and other payables	502,534	-	-	-
Finance lease	6,617	6,618	40,552	-
Total	509,151	6,618	40,552	-

The above amounts reflect the contractual undiscounted cash flows, which may differ to the carrying values of the liabilities at the reporting date.

28 Fair value measurement

Fair value measurement of financial instruments

The Directors have performed a review of the financial assets and liabilities as at 30 June 2018, and have concluded that the fair value of those assets and liabilities are not materially different to book values. The methods and assumptions used to estimate the fair value of financial instruments were:

- Cash - The carrying amount is fair value due to the liquid nature of these assets.
- Receivables/payables - Due to the short term nature of these financial rights and obligations, their carrying values are estimated to represent their fair values and equals the amount to be settled by the contracting party.

29 Events after the reporting date

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of Fastbrick Robotics

Report on the audit of the financial report

Opinion

We have audited the financial report of Fastbrick Robotics (the Company) and its subsidiaries (the Group), which comprises the consolidated statement of financial position as at 30 June 2018, the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and the Directors' declaration.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial report of the Group is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- a giving a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as at 30 June 2018 and of its performance for the year ended on that date; and
- b complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial report of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial report as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Recognition of development costs asset - Note 15

The Group has capitalised development costs in relation to the Hadrian X project. There is a risk that costs that have been capitalised may not comply with the recognition requirements relevant to AASB138 Intangible Assets. Management judgement is required to assess the commercial and technical feasibility of the Hadrian X project, including the future economic benefits. This area is a key audit matter due to the subjectivity involved in assessing the recognition criteria for capitalised development costs and the level of management judgement involved in any impairment indicators of the Hadrian X project.

Our procedures included, amongst others:

- assessing the appropriateness of management's policy for capitalising development costs pursuant to AASB 138;
- testing the mathematical accuracy of management's development costs model;
- obtaining evidence to support the key assumptions used by management in the model and challenging those assumptions
- selecting a sample of capitalised costs and agreeing to third party support to identify whether they have been appropriately capitalised in accordance with accounting policies;
- examining existing patents held by the Group that support project activities;
- examining MOU agreements in place to support technical and commercial feasibility; and
- assessing the appropriateness of financial statement disclosures.

Recognition of R&D tax incentive – Note 15

Under the research and development (R&D) tax incentive scheme, the Group receives a 43.5% refundable tax offset (2017: 43.5%) of eligible expenditure if its turnover is less than $20 million per annum, provided it is not controlled by income tax exempt entities. An R&D plan is filed with AusIndustry in the following financial year and, based on this filing, the Group receives the incentive in cash. Management performed a detailed review of the Group's total R&D expenditure to estimate the refundable tax offset receivable under the R&D tax incentive legislation. As at 30 June 2018, a receivable of $8,503,853 has been recorded. This area is a key audit matter due to the size of the accrual and the degree of judgement and interpretation of the R&D tax legislation required by management to assess the eligibility of the R&D expenditure under the scheme.

Our procedures included, amongst others:

- comparing the nature of the R&D expenditure included in the current year estimate to the prior year claim;
- utilising an internal R&D tax specialist to review the expenditure methodology employed by management for consistency with the R&D tax offset rules;
- considering the nature of the expenditure against the eligibility criteria of the R&D tax incentive scheme to form a view about whether the expenses included in the estimate were likely to meet the eligibility criteria;
- comparing the eligible expenditure used in the receivable calculation to the expenditure recorded in the general ledger;
- assessing the treatment of the refundable tax offset in accordance with Group's stated accounting policy and accounting standards;
- inspecting copies of relevant correspondence with AusIndustry and the ATO related to historic claims; and;
- assessing the appropriateness of financial statement disclosures.

Information other than the financial report and auditor's report thereon

The Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Group's annual report for the year ended 30 June 2018, but does not include the financial report and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors' for the financial report

The Directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the Directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the Directors are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial report is located at the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board website at: http://www.auasb.gov.au/auditors_responsibilities/ar1.pdf. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

In our opinion, the Remuneration Report of Fastbrick Robotics, for the year ended 30 June 2018 complies with section 300A of the Corporations Act 2001.

Responsibilities

The Directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the Remuneration Report in accordance with section 300A of the Corporations Act 2001. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Remuneration Report, based on our audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards.
